PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Established in 1985 and graciously inaugurated by H.R.H. Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn on July 31, 1990, Rangsit University (RSU) has thrived rapidly during the past three decades to become a leading private university with academic excellence and international standard.

In realizing that a university has an extremely significant role in human resource development of a country in an effort to strengthen its national potential in social and economic development as well as to increase its competitive power, RSU has implemented measures for upgrading its manpower and infrastructure conducive for educational quality development. With the advent of new economy whereby knowledge and wisdom constitute the essential groundwork towards success and prosperity, its education curricula as well as the teaching and learning processes have been regularly reoriented with innovative field of studies developed to meet new challenges and changes incurred in the national, economic and social development and the rapid progress of science and technology. Our vision is to thrive ahead to take the lead in the areas of science and technology development, management development and esthetic design. Comprehensive and integrated education is also enhanced in order to produce graduates who are not only proficient in their selected profession but also in other sciences which are essential for establishing a good groundwork of ethics and emotional quotient which would then lead them towards success, prosperity and happiness.

The management of RSU, the academic workforce and all staff join in promoting RSU to achieve the ultimate goals of:

- A comprehensive university
- A university with a total integration of essential arts and sciences
- A place for self-realization and actualization
- A place for integrated learning for professional advancement and successful living which would further contribute towards national development and social well-being for all in the future.

Arthit Ourairat, Ph. D.
President

WELCOME TO A STUDENT CITY RANGSIT

Rangsit is a metropolitan city that supports the expansion of Bangkok in the north. Rangsit has become a departure point for travel to provinces in the north, northeast, and eastern Thailand. It is a great city for students as they can enjoy all the amenities within the vicinity of the university.
